

I am writing to express my opposition with the proposed new media rules. This ruling will allow large media companies to take over control of all the airwaves, pushing out smaller, local radio and tv stations. By giving control to these larger companies we are restricting what the public hears, droning out the voice of many while covering it up with the voice of the few and wealthy.